

Report back from Iraq

Hear Writer and Story Teller George Capaccio, just returned from Baghdad, report on the impact of sanctions and how ordinary Iraqis have prepared for a war they do not want, but fear will come.

Capaccio is a frequent visitor to Iraq, with religious and humanitarian missions, including Voices in the Wilderness. His collection of poetry on Iraq won the 1999 Peace Writing Award; he also received the 2001 Peacemaker Award from the Massachusetts Chapter of Veterans for Peace.
